Baker and Taylor:

Baker and Taylor has for years been a major vendor for library materials. They backordered many items in 2025 and materials have trickled out recently. Baker and Taylor is in turmoil. First, there was speculation that Baker and Taylor would be acquired. Full-service book distributor ReaderLink last week announced that it had entered a Letter of Intent to acquire “the business and substantially all the assets” of library supplier Baker & Taylor. But that didn't happen. Baker and Taylor laid off more than 300 employees from Momence, IL and closed the location. Baker and Taylor will be winding down operations.
